Difficulty	0	2	11	64	14	5	0	4.1
Learn Exp	0	2	2	33	22	25	13	5.1

Brym was thought to be a knowledgeable and enthusiastic lecturer, and students appreciated his use of practical examples in the lectures. However, some students felt Brym emphasized a particular viewpoint and was not approachable or open to any different ideas. Students also would have preferred more frequent tutorials as they felt only having them to review for tests rendered them useless. Students also did not like the fact that multiple choice was the only evaluation method.

Instructor(s): L. Kenny

Enr: 1328		Resp: 482				Retake: 78%

Learn Exp	0	2	5	43	24	15	8	4.7

Students felt Kenny was very enthusiastic about the subject matter. They liked the clarity with which she explained material and her use of examples. Some student suggested that she not read as much from her notes.

Overall, students enjoyed the course and many liked being introduced to a new way of viewing world around them. Some would have liked a better variety of testing methods beyond multiple choice tests.

SOC 102H1F Introduction to Sociology Social Inequalities

Instructor(s): L. Tepperman

Enr: 943		Resp: 369				Retake: 70%
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	Mean

Difficulty	2	5	10	56	16	5	3	4.1
Learn Exp	1	2	7	36	22	20	9	4.7

Tepperman was described as an enthusiastic instructor, but students felt the lecture material was not important for the test, which was based almost exclusively on the readings. Students felt it was unfair they had to buy two of the professors' books when most material came from one. Many students found the course material interesting, but would have strongly preferred other methods of evaluation rather than only multiple choice tests.

SOC 103H1S Introduction to Sociology Social Institutions and Processes

Instructor(s): B. Taa

Enr: 932		Resp: 133				Retake: 56%

Difficulty	4	9	17	59	4	3	0	3.6
Learn Exp	10	10	15	39	10	10	2	3.7

The course was interesting and insightful. Taa was considered to be nice and clearly knowledgeable on the subject. Although his lectures were informative, and supplemented with slides, many found it difficult to understand him at times. Also, there were times when he only got through half of his lecture material before he ran out of class time.

SOC 200H1F Logic of Social Inquiry

Instructor(s): A. Marin

Enr: 176		Resp: 93				Retake: 45%

Difficulty	1	1	2	45	26	15	8	4.8
Learn Exp	2	5	9	45	23	12	1	4.2

Students found Marin to be very enthusiastic and pleasant. Students found the course load to be very intensive compared to other 200 level courses. Students also felt that there was not enough time given to complete the midterm and assignments. Students highly enjoyed the writing workshops and felt that they were very helpful in completing assignments.

SOC 201H1F Classical Sociological Thought : Community & Religion

Instructor(s): J. Veugelers

Enr: 143   Resp: 101   Retake: 67%

Difficulty	0	0	2	53	35	8	1	4.5
Learn Exp	0	0	2	23	25	22	26	5.5

Veugelers was widely praised by students, who considered him an enthusiastic and engaging lecturer. Students found the class to be interesting and appreciated Veugelers' ability to put concepts into context. Some students, however, complained about the dense readings and also suggested that Powerpoint slides would have provided the class with more structure.

SOC 202H1S Quantitative Analysis in Social Science Research

Instructor(s): S. Schieman

Enr: 132   Resp: 70   Retake: 30%

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	Mean

Difficulty	0	2	1	21	47	17	8	5.0
Learn Exp	0	1	5	39	24	24	7	4.9

Students liked Schieman. Many thought he did a great job illustrating the subject matter with good examples.

The course material itself was considered quite dry. Many students liked having a variety of assignments, including writing components. Some students complained that the instructions were not clear.

Instructor(s): S. Montazer

Enr: 160   Resp: 86   Retake: 51%

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	Mean

Difficulty	0	0	6	53	25	12	2	4.5
Learn Exp	1	1	3	36	26	18	11	5.1

This course had mixed reviews. Some students found this a great course with interesting material taught by a great instructor who was enthusiastic and friendly. He was also knowledgeable and presented material in a clear manner while being helpful and caring.

However, some other students found that his classes were disorganized. He talked too fast which made it hard to write noted especially when there were no slides provided in class or online.

SOC 205H1F Urban Sociology

Instructor(s): B. Berry

Enr: 186   Resp: 48   Retake: 63%
