New Undergraduate Research Fund!

The Arts & Science Students' Union (ASSU) and the Faculty of Arts & Science have jointly established the Undergraduate Research Fund, to help undergraduate students defray the costs of engaging in research. The Fund hopes to foster more research experience at the undergraduate level by providing students with an opportunity to develop a research project of their own, for which there is no other available funding.

The Fund is open to all Arts & Science students in good academic standing. Group research is eligible (with a maximum of three students per group). For application deadlines and more info - visit the website.
